Pictures at an Exhibition presents images of one notable show every weekday.

Today's show: "Keith Edmier: Edison Impluvium" is on view at Bob Rauschenberg Gallery at Florida Southwestern State College in Ft. Myers, Florida, until Saturday, February 6. The solo exhibition presents "a site-specific, full-scale sculptural recreation of the historic circa 1910 concrete swimming pool (located on the nearby property of the Edison-Ford Winter Estates)," along with plaster casts of Thomas Edison's death mask, according to a press release.
