

"EVERYTHING ... IS FINE"

Actor/director Crispin Hellion Glover screens new film at FSW Friday evening

The Bob Rauschenberg Gallery at Florida SouthWestern State College will host Crispin Hellion Glover, the internationally-acclaimed screen actor and movie director, at the next ArtSPEAK@FSW Friday, July 10, at 7 p.m., in the Rush Library Auditorium, 8099 College Parkway, South Fort Myers.

Offering the second part of his "IT?" trilogy for the first time ever in Southwest Florida, Glover will perform a one-hour narrative reading of his illustrated books as "Crispin Hellion Glover's Big Slide Show, Part 2" before screening his most recent feature "It Is Fine! EVERYTHING IS FINE." Following the film, he will open the floor for discussion with a Q&A, book signing and a meet-and-greet with fans.

Described as part horror film, exploitation picture and documentary, "It Is Fine!

EVERYTHING IS FINE" is the story of a man unable to express his sexuality in the way he desires. Communicated from the actual point of view of lead actor and screenwriter Steven C. Stewart – suffering from severe cerebral palsy and confined to a nursing home for a decade – it shows how he lived for years watching people do things he was never able to do.

The New York Times called this semi-autobiographical, psycho-sexual tale, "Wildly impassioned and macabrely fascinating."

After showing at FSW July 10, the film will not be screened again until late August at the Institute of Contemporary Arts (ICA) in London.

PAPER magazine declared: "What Diane Arbus was to photography, Crispin Hellion Glover is swiftly achieving as a filmmaker ... Training his sardonic eyes
